SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

Giving Great Industrial Promise
Railway Facilities a
Central Feature

Mr. SPEAKER. I have the honor to inform the House that when the House did attend His Excellency the Governor General this day in the Senate Chamber, His Excellency was pleased to make a speech to both Houses of Parliament. To prevent mistakes I have obtained a copy, which is as follows:

Honourable Gentlemen of the Senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

In again meeting you at a season most convenient for the despatch of business, it is with great pleasure that I congratulate you on the prosperous condition of the country.

The present year, which is now rapidly drawing to a close, has been a period of steady and progressive growth. Immigration has poured in to the new settlements of the north and of the west, in a copious and well ordered stream, drawn from the best elements of the British Isles, the United States and Continental Europe. Trade and commerce have made rapid advances in all directions. The revenue has almost completely regained what it had lost in the recent period of depression. Most remarkable has been the rapid recovery from the financial embarrassment which for a short time was the cause of anxiety amongst business men. In nearly every branch of business there has been a revival of activity which gives assurance of continued progress and prosperity.

Members of my government attended the Imperial Conference called by His Majesty's government, on the question of defence. A plan was adopted after consultation with the Admiralty, for the organization of a Canadian Naval Service, on the lines of the resolution of the House of Commons, of the 20th of March last. The papers will be immediately brought down and a Bill introduced accordingly.

The new convention between His Majesty and the President of the French Republic, respecting the commercial relations between France and Canada, having been approved by the French Legislative Chambers, you will also be asked to confirm it.

The construction of the Transcontinental railway has made substantial advance during the year. The western division has been extended 60 miles beyond Edmonton, completing a total distance of 861 miles west of Winnipeg. Contract has been let for 360 miles in the Mountain division; good progress was made on this work. The eastern division is now open for traffic from Winnipeg to Lake Superior Junction and thence, by the Grand Trunk Pacific branch, to the lake itself. The whole of the work between Winnipeg and Moncton is now under contract.

The board of engineers entrusted with the preparation of plans for the construction of the Quebec bridge has sufficiently advanced its work to permit of tenders being invited for the substructure.

The exploratory surveys for a railway from the western wheat fields to Hudson Bay were pushed energetically during the whole of last summer. It is hoped that a report of the operations will be placed before you at an early date.

In order to improve the facilities already afforded the public by the government railways, and to enhance their value as part of the great transportation system of Canada, a Bill will be submitted to you for the purpose of enabling the Minister of Railways, on the recommendation of the Government Railway Managing Board, and subject to the approval of Parliament, to lease any line or lines connecting with the Intercolonial railway.

A measure will be submitted to you for the purpose of rendering more effective the present legislation respecting combinatorial which unduly enhances prices.

Bills will also be introduced respecting banks and banking, insurance, navigable waters, and other matters. Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

The estimates for the coming year will be submitted for your approval at an early date.

Honourable Gentlemen of the Senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I pray the Almighty Lord that He may guide and bless your deliberations, and that they may bear fruit in a further increase of our country's prosperity and well being.

Happenings of Interest In and Around Coleman

"Slav town" is now part of Coleman. L. A. Manley returned to Coleman Thursday night.

The Blairmore Enterprise will not appear this week as the big press is undergoing repairs.

Dr. Warlock, M.P.P. of Pincher Creek, arrived in town this morning on a professional visit.

J. D. S. Barrett and W. J. Bartlett returned from their newspaper inspection on a professional visit.

Rev. Mr. Lang of Lundbreck preached in the Institutional church both morning and evening last Sunday.

A. C. Kemmis, solicitor of Pincher Creek, was in Coleman this week attending to important matters of business.

J. L. Mayhood, advance agent of the Allen Stock Company, was in town several days this week in the interests of his company.

The Eagles are giving another grand smoker in the opera house on Saturday, Nov. 27. More particulars will be given later.

On December 14 the English Opera Company will visit Coleman. This is one of the strongest dramatic companies on the continent.

J. N. McDonald, special correspondent of the Morning Albertan was in Coleman and the Pass towns this week. He is writing "em up."

Alex. McLean was in Blairmore Sunday evening. As the train was late on Monday morning Mr. McLean kindly consented to wait.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion in St. Alban's church at 8 a. m. on Sunday next. Evening prayer at 7.30 p. m.

Rev. W. Macdonald, the new incumbent of St. Alban's church, and family have arrived in town and will immediately take up their residence here.

H. A. Parks returned from Fernie last night. The doctor will soon be bidding Coleman a short farewell, as we all feel and hope he will again make Coleman his home.

Lame back comes on suddenly and is extremely painful. It is caused by rheumatism of the muscles. Quick relief is afforded by applying Chamberlain's Liniment. Sold by all dealers.

The incorporation meeting to be called next week will be the largest ever held in Coleman. The large ratepayers of the town are determined that Coleman shall go ahead and be progressive.

Engineer Gough of Kamloops was killed near North Bend on Nov. 10th and the firemen and brakemen were severely injured. The engine and several cars were thrown from the track by a snowslide.

F. R. F. McKittrick, special correspondent of the Lethbridge Herald, was in Coleman this week. Mr. McKittrick was present at the incorporation meeting and gave a short address on southern Alberta.

The speeches of the speakers at the incorporation meeting will be continued in next week's paper as many interesting points have been brought out. If space had permitted we would have published the whole report in this issue.

Dr. Bruce, of Macleod, honor graduate of Trinity University, Toronto, and Royal College of Dental Surgeons of Ontario, will make his next regular visit to Coleman on Nov. 20th to 23rd, at Pacific hotel. Please call and make appointments early.

J. W. Bengough, the greatest cartoonist in America, has consented to visit Coleman and give an exhibition in the Coleman opera house on December 21st. This will be without doubt the greatest event this season in the history of the opera house.

Many school children suffer from constipation, which is often the cause of evening stupidity at lessons. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are an ideal medicine to give a child, for they are mild and gentle in their effect, and will cure even chronic constipation. Sold by all dealers.

Big Doings at the New and Thriving Town of Carbondale

The power-house is completed and the boilers have been installed. Carbondale and Oshtville will be wanting incorporation with themselves next.

The new which will erect the tipples has arrived and will commence operations at once.

The placing of the poles and the stringing of the electric wires to the mine is in progress.

J. K. Cram, the new general manager, has arrived and has already assumed his duties.

J. W. Powell has been appointed colliery manager of the McGillivray Creek coal mine.

When a cold becomes settled in the system, it will take several days' treatment to cure it, and the best remedy to use is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure quicker than any other, and also leaves the system in a natural and healthy condition. Sold by all dealers.

Happenings at Blairmore

W. A. Beebe paid Macleod a flying visit this week.

No more room in Blairmore for real estate and insurance men.

Every live man in Blairmore has an "ad" in the Blairmore Enterprise.

Mrs. H. E. Lyon left for Renfrew, Ontario, Monday, where her father is seriously ill.

Blairmore sports have not as yet done anything towards opening the rink for the season. What's the matter?

J. A. McDonald, local agent for the Sun Life, will move his family here next week. He will occupy one of his new residences.

The development work at the Colliers is progressing favorably and the coal now coming out is the best yet seen in the Pass.

The editor of the Miner is an expert on the age of a horse. He made a good guess when he changed the age of Dick Beard from 28 to 78.

The old, old story, told times without number, and repeated over and over again for the last 30 years, but it is always a welcome story to those in search of health—There is nothing in the world that cures coughs and colds so quickly as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Sold by all dealers.

C. M. O'Brien is in Olds assisting the Specialist candidate.

THE COLEMAN MINER is for sale at all the Drug Stores in the Pass.

It was two degrees below zero in Macleod on Wednesday morning.

Alex. McLean has been appointed special reporter for the Coleman Miner.

J. D. Hurd, general manager of the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Co. has resigned.

Croup is most prevalent during the dry cold weather of the early winter months. Parents of young children should be prepared for it. All that is needed is a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Many mothers are never without it in their homes and it has never disappointed them. Sold by all dealers.

B. Jacobs of Nelson, B. C. would like very much to be supplied with information relative work done, plant and machinery put in, ore production (if any), surface improvements, transportation facilities provided, and all other details showing the year's progress. All these reviews will be given wide publicity.

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Slave on last Sunday night, in the Public hall, a large and progressive program was carried. A resolution was passed in favor of incorporation with Coleman, if Coleman were made a town. Candidates for the approaching municipal election were also endorsed.

The attendance at the opera house last night was not near to what this class of success warranted, as the violin and piano playing, singing and conjuring were of the highest order. Miss Fenwick and Miss Cassels, prima donnas, were repeatedly cheered. Mr. Perceval, certainly steals the old Egyptian scenes in his several conjuring acts.

BIG MEETING AT COLEMAN Incorporation of Coleman Freely Discussed in the Council Chamber

The meeting of the rate-payers of Coleman held on Wednesday evening in the Council Chamber, at the Fire Hall, for the purpose of discussing the advisability of incorporating Coleman was attended by about fifty men. Practically all classes of our townsmen were represented, including a variety of nationalities. The interest in the question discussed could not have been better and judging from the able way in which many of the speakers expressed their opinions it is safe to say that if ability to legislate may be judged by good speaking Coleman has not a few who should make very capable council-fellows.

The meeting began about 8.30 and Alex. Cameron was elected chairman. D'Arcy Graves was appointed secretary for the meeting.

The chairman in a few introductory remarks explained the object of the meeting. He said that a petition had been presented to him, as chairman of council, asking for incorporation. We were here to discuss the question and the meeting was declared open.

Mr. Hill asked if a poll of the rate-payers would be necessary as the first step and received the reply from the chairman that the first necessary step would be for a rate-payer to make a motion that we incorporate.

Mr. Hill proposed an incorporation motion which was seconded by A. M. Morrison.

This was followed by a discussion which occupied the remainder of the evening. Mr. Hill, the first speaker, said that although he presented the motion he did not come to make a speech. He wanted to see Coleman incorporated not from selfish interests, but thought it was necessary for the right kind of development. We had two mines, as well as other resources. Coleman had a great future and a prospect of a large population. In order to cope with this we must have an adequate supply of good water. There were other utilities that must be obtained and incorporation was necessary to get these. He said the matter of incorporation had been discussed in the board of trade meetings and there had been an out-cry against it on account of increased expense. He had made inquiries and concluded that the expense should not be an obstacle.

Mr. Brandon, editor of the Miner, was the next speaker, and he dealt extensively with the subject of incorporation, under the heads of "Improvements to streets," "Electric Light," "Waterworks," "Slav Town," "Taxes and Assessments." He showed by actual figures how the revenue if raised and spent judiciously, could exceed the legitimate outlay.

After Mr. Russ had spoken, Mr. Brandon spoke further on the necessity of a sewerage system.

Mr. Morrison, the second of the motion said he did not wish to take up the time of the meeting. He agreed with Messrs. Brandon and Hill and what they had said and expressed his ideas on the subject. He hoped that some from the residential parts of the town would be heard on the question.

O. E. S. Whiteside, who spoke next, said he did not come to say anything. He came to listen and learn. While naturally interested in Coleman, light and good water supply was also of interest to him. Mr. Brandon's remarks had taken his attention and some statements were made by that gentleman that required facts and figures. He thought conditions in Okotoks and Pincher Creek were scarcely to be compared to Coleman conditions. With towns on the prairie it was a case of incorporation to get those public necessities. However, he desired more information.

In answer to a question, Mr. Brandon said light in Okotoks cost 90c. per sixteen candle power.

INCORPORATE COLEMAN

The public meeting which was called by the council to discuss incorporation made another step towards incorporation. The final motion which adjourned the meeting was the only practical method to pursue. There were a few present who would have killed the whole question of incorporation but luckily the meeting saw fit to prolong the discussion and thus give the ratepayers an opportunity to gain such further information.

To kill incorporation is practically to kill the town, for without adequate water supply we cannot hold out to any greater population the incentive that we have an abundant water supply. For we absolutely have not. The first inquiry that an intending industrial company makes is how is your water supply? Take a promoter up to the present fountain and he will walk to the station and Coleman will see him no more.

The health of the public is an important consideration and any attempt to jeopardise the health of our families smacks of the grossest unconcern for our fellow-beings.

The argument that the village can continually borrow money from the government is a lame one and calculated to place serious voters in a doubtful position. When we borrow money from the government we can only borrow a limited amount, so limited that it gives the village no opportunity to invest it and at least pay the interest. A village means a contracted business with the splendid opportunity of allowing other concerns to make profits out of enterprises that should be rightfully the town's.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Foster predicts a warm wave from the 18th to the 23rd.

A vote against incorporation is a vote in favor of a larger cemetery.

Lord Northcliffe says the Intercolonial is too slow. Why doesn't he ride on the C. P. R.?

A vote for incorporation is a straight vote for good water, good health, and continued good work.

Lethbridge is striving to get on the Pass hockey league. Is it possible that any Cold air reaches that city?

The socialists have a winning plank in their platform, viz. incorporation. We hope every socialist will turn out next week.

There is no use putting on a tax on bachelors as there is a great shortage of cars from the east and a greater shortage of three dollar bills.

The old Crow has certainly a chilly look. He is like one ratepayer who was asked by thirteen prospective aldermen for his vote within a half hour.

Any man who thinks he can defeat Mr. Evans will have to travel a little faster than usual and in William's own words "be jabers and then he can't keep step."

It will soon be an honor to belong to the hockey club. We advise all to get a ticket before the honor rises. One thing is sure, once the hockey club gets your donation they will freeze right to it.

Mr. Evans desires through the columns of this paper to announce that he has retired from the mayoralty race and asks all his supporters to assist Alex. McLean. This assures Mr. McLean's election.

The Lethbridge Herald came out last Saturday with a twelve page paper. The Miner is pleased to note the rapid advancement of the Herald and it can assure the Herald that the people of this part of southern Alberta are not ungrateful of the Herald's splendid news service.

Dr. Warnock, M. P. P. for Pincher Creek, was in town this week and reports conditions as extremely good in the Pincher Creek district. The doctor did not refer to the recent cabinet promotions but the Miner reiterates that a grave mistake has been made in not placing Dr. Warnock at the head of the department of agriculture.

SOME LIGHT ON THE SUBJECT

Coleman, Alta. Nov. 18th 09.

Mr. Editor,
If you will allow me space in your valuable paper to insert this letter which I am sure is of common interest to everybody I will thank you sincerely.

As incorporation is the great and vital theme now before us, it behooves us all to get on our right and sensible thinking caps. I learned much from the different speakers while at the incorporation meeting and I am sure that every qualified ratepayer cannot but soon see the fallacy of our remaining a village.

As I intend to go into this subject very fully I will divide my subject into three divisions viz. the water works, the sewage system and incorporated work.

The water question is one of such supreme importance that it can hardly be left to amateurs who are looking only to the present and who tomorrow may be calling for this necessity of life or lamenting the loss of a loved one.

As it is now clearly understood we must obtain the registration of the water in McGillivray Creek at once or else we will soon find ourselves in a predicament that has before faced selfish and reactionary men. The water in McGillivray Creek can be got now and if we incorporate at once we will have a position that warrants the granting of this water to the future town of Coleman.

Even if we could obtain a grant of ten thousand dollars that would not pay for our waterworks. And we cannot go begging to the government every 3 months. Mr. Editor there are some people in Coleman who know that Nex Perce Creek is now not able to supply our present demand. Why do they oppose incorporation?

Without good water and plenty of it you cannot have a good sewage system or good health. Do we want to make a cesspool out of Coleman or a clean and healthy town? If incorporation is defeated and an epidemic breaks out I would hate to have it said of me that I opposed incorporation. My conscience would smite me till the day of judgment.

From personal knowledge I know that we cannot again get three good men to again work for nothing on our council. They spend time on the council work at the expense of their business. And if we are not men enough to give them assistance we are willing to almost shift our own work on their shoulders. I hope, also that at the next meeting that no sejourner from a neighboring town will presume to stand up and tell us how to run our affairs. When we are visited four times by a fire we will expect our taxation to go up a little and more than that we would pay it without a howl.

Yours truly,

ENTHUSIASTIC HOCKEY MEETING

The meeting held in the council chamber on Friday evening was well attended. O. E. S. Whiteside was elected chairman and explained that the meeting was called in order to form a hockey club. Mr. Whiteside, thought that the town could not do better than have a splendid hockey team. D. J. McIntyre spoke at some length and urged the formation of a club as the first step in the securing of an efficient team. Bert White, R. Webb, F. G. Graham, H. De La Matye and T. B. Brandon also urged the formation of a good team and pointed out how other cities managed their teams.

The chairman next called upon the meeting to elect a secretary pro tem and the meeting promptly elected Lemuel Sellers, B. C. L. After the election of the secretary nominations and elections were received for the various offices. The result was as follows:

Patrons, A. G. Flimmerfelt, Victoria, president International Coal & Coke Co. Ltd. and Lorne Campbell, Roseland, president McGillivray Creek Coal & Coke Co. Ltd., president O. E. S. Whiteside, 1 vice-president J. K. Crum, 2 vice-president F. G. Graham, sec. Treas., L. Sellers, finance committee, D. J. McIntyre, T. B. Brandon, H. De La Matye, D. J. Hill, R. Laird, P. Willmott; man. com. B. White, D. McIntyre, R. R. Webb, W. H. Murr. The work of getting the team together will be immediately commenced. There is also a strong likelihood of the risk being met over this winter.

VERY BAD ACCIDENT

One of the worst train accidents in the province, occurred Wednesday morning on the New Westminster interurban line of the British Columbia Electric railway company. Fourteen lives were instantly snuffed out in the accident, and nine others are lying in the hospital, three of whom are not expected to live.

NOVEMBER BOO AND GUN

While notable for the variety and range of its contents, the November number of Boo and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., in accordance with the season has no less than seven hunting stories. In addition, the opening one, descriptive of an official visit to the Indian reserves for the purpose of saving the money, will attract much attention. An account of a trip to Niagara, after an absence of twenty-eight years, contrasting conditions then and now, brings forcibly home to readers the advances made in Canada in the last quarter of a century. A Fishing Trip to Newfoundland, the climbs of the Alpinists, a sarcastic paper on the Perils of the Chase and numerous others, all having their own interests, make up a number every sportsman will be glad to possess and one which each sportsman should have on his shelf.

BRITAIN RAISES A GENERAL ELECTION

Lord Lansdowne, leader of the opposition, gave the formal and expected notice of his intention to move for the rejection of the budget bill when it comes up next Monday. His motion he said, would be expressed thus: I move that this house is not justified in giving its consent to this bill until it has been submitted to the judgment of the country. As the unionist peers hold the same commanding position in the upper house as the radicals in the house of commons, Lord Lansdowne's motion undoubtedly means the fate of the financial bill and secures a general election.

AT THE OPERA

"Cousin Kate" which was well received at the opera house last Thursday evening by a large and well pleased audience, proved a great success. The play was a delightful comedy, well acted and directed, and presented with unusual attention to detail and so resulted in a finished and smoothly running production that met with well merited applause.

THE JUVENILE BOSTONIANS

The opera house was crowded last Saturday night when the Juvenile Bostonians made their first appearance in Coleman. The girls to use one of their own expressions certainly showed "class." Miss Berthe was a great favorite and took the house by storm on several occasions. It is to be hoped the juveniles will be back again.

TALES OF THE CASCADES

NETHERBY COMES BACK

Down the thinly wooded ravine the party followed an old deer trail, hoping if possible, to strike a trace of an antlered deer. For a time the party divided so as to cover the ground in a thorough manner, but not even a trace of the deer, spied in the morning, could be discovered.

A boisterous "I've caught it!" from Mr. Jepson brought Paul and Rosaline quickly to him. There before them on the scrambled snow were fresh and evident traces of deer. Reinvigorated and with the blood running more swiftly in their veins they now carefully followed the scent eagerly. Paul and Rosaline took the high and low trails, while Mr. Jepson who was more experienced than the others in hunting, kept on the tracks of the light-footed deer. Here and there the snow was scuffed away and the ground covered with a whitened frost, showing plainly that the deer had stopped at an unpretentious salt-lick.

Again at noon the party ate a hearty meal but this time no fire was kindled or unnecessary words uttered. With a knowing gesture the members all separated and all proceeded to encircle a saucer-like grove of fir and pine. Mr. Jepson was leaning forward with the confidence and nerve displayed by an old time hunter. Dressed in a buck-skin suit and wearing moccasins, he of all had the nearest opportunity of bringing home the antlers.

Rosaline, though but a poor hunter, was no less making her way among the short underbrush and saskatoons, Paul who was as impetuous as ever detoured himself too far to the west and lost all traces of the hunt.

No sooner had Rosaline made her way through the snow-dusted bushes, than a retreating figure of a doe, appeared her. For some time she remained quite still owing to the extreme nervousness with which she was affected. Gradually this passed away and she assumed greater confidence and greater power of movement. She raised her rifle and fired. A convulsive jump and a heavy thud told a devastating story.

The first impulse of victory and the flush of success crowded across Rosaline's confused mind. She had fallen her first quarry of the wood. She rushed forward.

The first impulse of thought is the first impulse of action and the first impulse of action is the first impulse of subdued consciousness. Rosaline realised for the first time the extent of the blow of her bullet and her blood thirsty intention. She recoiled. As she stood and looked upon the helpless and bountiful creature a spark of sympathy matured to touch her fevered spirit and she felt aggrieved at herself.

Presently another shot rang out through the frosty air. Another deer had fallen a prey to the fateful gun. Rosaline and the now returned Paul came upon the scene and watched eagerly the fight for life between the hunter and the deer in the wood.

Not fifty yards away Rosaline and Paul saw with no little degree of excitement the experienced hunter and the king of the grove "fight it out."

The antlered monarch with a mortal wound was fighting for every inch of his life. For some time he stood out valiantly with his fore feet but the plucky hunter made every attempt of the enraged beast. Finally as the engineer was preparing to shoot and finish the struggle, the deer plunged forward and forced the rifle from his hands. A hand encounter was now imminent.

Mr. Jepson hastily drew his hunting knife and at the same time signalled Paul to remain quiet as a chance bullet might result in serious danger.

With a groan of rage the antlered monarch again sprang upon the wary engineer. With a sudden lurch to the side the hunter was safe for a period of several seconds.

Both eyed the other. The deer now deliberately walked back a few yards and then suddenly reared and threw itself against Mr. Jepson. In the fray the engineer went before the dying monarch as a spray of foam against a mountain wind.

As he was borne down he wielded his knife and sank it deeply into the left breast of his antlered adversary. The "king of the grove" lay dead and stretched corpse the exhausted and endangered hunter.

Rosaline, followed by the devoted Paul, soon reached her father's side and together they carefully extirpated the victorious hunter. With the administration of some spirits the engineer was soon up and well and assisting in the work of deantlering the deer. He then heartily congratulated his daughter on her first great success. After the party had carefully "cached" the carcasses, to be later sent for, they made their way slowly back to their temporary camping ground.

In the burning of the Revere house at Inisfail on the 10th inst., two children were burned to death. Two young men, Thos. Owen and John True, were drowned by the upsetting of a canoe on Ross Lake, near Lettbridge, on Sunday, the 9th.
